Mission Statement & Strategic Plan 2021-2024

NYSACAC Vision Statement

NYSACAC is at the forefront of providing professional development and leadership opportunities in college admission counseling.

NYSACAC Mission Statement

The NYSACAC mission statement outlines our commitment to the professionals and students of New York State. NYSACAC is committed to:

- Develop and strengthen the professional practices and networks of those who provide the information and counseling.
- Promote access, equity, and success in post-secondary education.
- Support the professionals who service the students and families in the transition to post-secondary education.
- Promote high professional standards that foster ethical and social responsibilities.

Strategic Goals 2021-2024

1. Membership and Leadership: NYSACAC will demonstrate the value and benefit of NYSACAC, build pathways for leadership opportunities, and increase membership across New York State.

- NYSACAC will strive to recruit and build a diverse executive board and membership that represents the demographics and diversity of New York State.
- NYSACAC will promote antiracist education for its leaders and members.
- NYSACAC will increase membership and engagement by recruiting and mentoring professionals from underrepresented areas of our membership.

2. Advocacy: NYSACAC will advocate at the local, state, and federal level for counseling and access to higher education on behalf of all students, including those who are underserved, underrepresented or have unique needs.

- NYSACAC will provide relevant information and updates concerning local, state, and federal policy in the best interest of our professional responsibilities and the students we serve.
- NYSACAC will also advance the membership opportunities for advocacy regarding policy areas of interest.

3. Access and Success: NYSACAC will continue to be a leader in promoting and ensuring access and success for all students seeking post-secondary opportunities.

- NYSACAC will focus on educational programming to prepare our members to serve students from underrepresented populations in higher education.

- Periodically survey our membership to identify interest and opportunities for programming and professional development.
- Continue to identify and incorporate all methods of technology to provide additional access points to our membership for professional development.

4. Exposure: NYSACAC will continue to define and promote its brand, developing effective marketing and communication strategies to support our vision and mission.

- Promote our organizational offerings to internal and external audiences through websites, newsletter, email outreach and social media.
- Develop relationships with regional and statewide organizations and companies that align and/or complement our affiliate to enhance opportunities for members.
- Increase constituent's understanding of the benefit of membership to NYSACAC.

5. Organizational Effectiveness: NYSACAC will maintain fiduciary responsibility while identifying strategic ways to advance our vision and mission.

- Strive to present and approve an annual balanced budget.
- Continuously seek out new revenue streams, including grant opportunities, that appropriately align with our mission and vision.
- Update Policies and Procedures as needed.
- Promote data transparency and utilize organizational data to make informed decisions and to pursue grant opportunities.

NYSACAC Executive Board

The Executive Board meets at least four times a year and all voting members are expected to attend these meetings and provide any information as necessary regarding their area of representation. The Board typically meets at the sites of the NYSACAC annual spring conference (June) and either virtually or in-person throughout NYSACAC during the academic year. In addition, a Leadership Retreat is conducted each summer to orient new leaders and to set organizational goals for the year. A second retreat is held in December to evaluate the progress of the Board and committees, and to review our plans for upcoming events and initiatives.

Expenses are usually assumed by the officer and their employer. These expenses may include transportation, meals, and lodging.

Executive Director

President

Contact: president@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves leadership at both the state and national levels. The President assumes leadership for the state association and serves as the primary liaison to National Association for College Admission Counseling (NACAC). In addition to the responsibilities listed below, the President is a member of the Affiliate President's Council (APC), a body composed of Presidents, Immediate Past Presidents, and Presidents-Elect for the state and regional associations. The Affiliate President's Council typically meets in person twice annually for leadership development and related activities. There are virtual meetings and trainings that take place throughout the year. The term of office for the President is one year. A summary of the duties of President is as follows:

1. Call and preside over all meetings of the Association and the Executive Board.
2. Prepare and distribute a written agenda for all meetings.
3. Upon assuming the office of President, in consultation with VPs as applicable, appoint standing committee co-chairs of the Association as needed for term succession and/or to fill interim terms for vacated positions. Co-chair terms are three years except for any vacated interim terms. An interim term occurs if a co-chair resigns before fulfilling their term. In the case of interim appointments of 12 months or fewer, the appointed co-chair will have the opportunity to be considered for a new appointment based on performance review with the incoming President and respective VP.
4. Serve as an ex-officio member of all committees.
5. Review and execute all contracts in consultation with the Immediate Past President, President-Elect, Secretary, and attorney.
6. Assume such other responsibilities as directed by the Executive Board.
7. Plan and lead the annual Executive Board Leadership retreats held each summer and winter to orient new leaders and to set goals for the year.
8. Compile and distribute an annual report to the membership. The report should be made at the General Membership meeting of the annual conference in June. Minutes of the meeting shall be made available to the membership.
9. Every three years as scheduled, review and update the Strategic Plan, vision and mission statements, and governance structure with Immediate Past President and President-Elect.
10. Assume the role of Immediate Past President at the conclusion of the term of President.

Service as President of NYSACAC is an honor and a great responsibility. The rewards of service to the Association are tremendous as the President meets members from across the State and represents NYSACAC at the national level. The President provides the vision and leadership necessary to meet the professional needs of members throughout the state and carry the membership forward.

President-Elect

Contact: president.elect@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves leadership at both the state and national levels. The President-Elect is responsible for the planning of the annual conference, and for providing regular updates to the membership and executive board. The President-Elect is a member of the Affiliate President's Council (APC), a body composed of Presidents, Immediate Past Presidents, and Presidents-Elect for the state and regional associations. The Affiliate President's Council typically in person meets twice annually for leadership development and related activities. There are a virtual meetings and trainings that take place throughout the year. The term of office for President-Elect is one year. A summary of the duties of President-Elect is as follows:

1. Serve as chair of the planning committee for the annual NYSACAC Conference.
Responsible for regular meetings of the planning committee to oversee the necessary preparations for the conference. Meet regularly with the on-site coordinator.
Responsible for: selecting a keynote speaker, organizing the conference's closing event/s, approving social events, workshops, and all conference related activities.
2. Oversee the Coming Together Committee as part of the Annual Conference planning process and update the Executive Board in coordination with the Coming Together Committee Co-Chairs.
3. Report on conference updates to the NYSACAC Executive Board.
4. Report to NYSACAC members at the two annual general membership meetings.
5. Update NYSACAC members about conference activities via the NYSACAC Newsletter.
6. Assume the Office of the President in their absence or resignation at all official functions of the Association.
7. Assume the office of President at the conclusion of the term of President-Elect.
8. Serve on the NACAC Affiliate Presidents Council.
9. Attend the NACAC Conference and other required meetings.
10. Assume other responsibilities as directed by the President.
11. Every three years as scheduled, review and update the Strategic Plan, vision and mission statements, and governance structure with Immediate Past President and President.

Serving the Association in the role of President-Elect is challenging and rewarding. It is a time for honing leadership skills in preparation for assuming the position of President. The President-Elect acts as a liaison to the membership regarding critical issues and in planning the annual State conference. This task commands leadership and the ability to work closely with the Steering Committee and the membership in a true team spirit.

Immediate Past President & Chief Representative

Immediate Past President

Contact: past.president@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves leadership at both the state and national levels, as the Immediate Past President is an active member of the Executive Board. The expertise of this individual is utilized in an advisory capacity by the Board and in particular by the President. The Immediate Past President is also the Chief Representative. The Immediate Past President is a member of the Affiliate President's Council (APC), a body composed of Presidents, Immediate Past Presidents and Presidents-Elect for the state and regional associations. The President's Council meets in person twice annually for leadership development and related activities. There are a number of virtual meetings and trainings that take place throughout the year. The term of office for the Immediate Past President is one year. A summary of the duties of the Immediate Past President is as follows:

1. Chair the Nominating and Awards Committee and fill any current vacancies through the appointment of active voting members of NYSACAC.
2. Certify that all Regional Representatives are members in good standing of NYSACAC.
3. Serve as a resource and advisor to the President.
4. Coordinate the annual review of Bylaws with the President, President-Elect, Vice Presidents, Secretary and Executive Director for approval by the Executive Board prior to the June General Membership Meeting.
5. Coordinate the annual review of the Policies and Procedures Manual with the President, President-Elect, Vice Presidents, Secretary and Executive Director for approval by the Executive Board prior to the annual conference.
6. Serve as Chief Representative for NYSACAC for a period of one year.
7. Every three years as scheduled, review and update the Strategic Plan, vision and mission statements, and governance structure with the President, President-Elect, Vice Presidents, Secretary, and Executive Director.

Serving the Association as Immediate Past President is a critical role. This person has developed, completed, or perhaps just initiated new endeavors for the organization, and through the previous roles as President-Elect and President, can serve as a key mentor to the entire organization. This knowledge and experience can help direct the organization as the current President brings energy and direction to its members.

Chief Representative

This role in the governance structure involves leadership and advocacy. The Chief Representative is responsible for leading the Regional Representatives (12) in their responsibilities as liaisons between the members in their respective region and the Executive Board.

A summary of the duties is as follows:

1. Attendance at NYSACAC Executive Board Meetings.
2. Attendance and participation in the NYSACAC Annual Spring Conference.
3. Attendance at some of the regional forums.
4. Submit a report at each Executive Board meeting detailing the activities of the Regional Representatives.
5. Participating in all the required APC meetings as determined by NACAC.

Vice President for Communications

Contact: vp.communications@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves duties primarily at the state level; however, it oversees the multimedia representation of the association which impacts the association at both the state and national levels. The term of office for Vice President for Communications is three years. A summary of the duties of this position is as follows:

The Vice President for Communications shall:

1. Coordinate the work of the Newsletter Committee, Technology Committee, and the Media and Marketing Committee as well as any related ad hoc and interim committees assigned by the President.
2. Serve as the primary liaison to all NYSACAC publications and marketing initiatives, except those associated with the Annual Conference and Membership Meeting.
3. Serve as an ex-officio member of the committees.
4. Submit reports to the Secretary prior to board meetings as determined by the yearly board calendar.
5. Maintain an updated policies & procedures manual that details important responsibilities required each month for the full fiscal year.
6. Ensure appropriate coverage during vacation time in order for the Association to continue its work without interruption.

Vice President for Finance

Contact: vp.finance@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves duties primarily at the state level; however, the effects of this position encompass significant fiduciary responsibility, impacting the Association at both the state and national levels. The Vice President for Finance conducts and monitors all financial transactions within the Association. The term of office for Vice President for Finance is two years after a year as the Vice President of Finance-Elect, for a total of three years of service. A summary of the duties of this position is as follows:

1. Coordinate the work of the College Fairs, Membership, Finance, and Scholarship Committees. Be responsible for the funds of the Association.
2. Be responsible for payments of all bills of the Association.
3. Chair the Finance Committee and help prepare and oversee the annual budget of the Association.
4. Coordinate the preparation of budget proposals and other funding requests for the committees and present them to the Executive Board.
5. Report on the financial status of the Association at the annual conference General Membership Meeting as per Article III section 6 of the Bylaws.

6. Present budget projections at the conclusion of the fiscal year for the following year.
7. As possible and required, schedule and assist with a financial audit of the Association every three (3) years.
8. Serve the first year of the term as “Vice President for Finance-Elect,” and attend all meetings with the Vice President for Finance, as a non-voting member.
9. Automatically become the Vice President for Finance in the second year of office and assume all the responsibilities of the position.
10. Serve as the Vice President for Finance in the third year of office, and during that year provide training for a new Vice President for Finance-Elect.
11. Serve as an ex-officio member of aforementioned committees.
12. Review and update Fiscal Policies Manual annually.
13. Submit reports to the Secretary prior to board meetings as determined by the yearly board calendar.
14. Maintain an updated policies & procedures manual that details important responsibilities required each month for the full fiscal year.
15. Ensure appropriate coverage during vacation time for the Association to continue its work without interruption.

Vice President for Finance-Elect

This one-year position is to train and learn from the Vice President for Finance, in order to assume that position at the conclusion of the year term. The term of office for Vice President for Finance-Elect is one year. A summary of the duties of this position is as follows:

1. Assume the office of Vice President for Finance upon the expiration of the Vice President for Finance’s term or for the remainder of the Vice President for Finance’s term if the Vice President for Finance is unable or unwilling to complete their term.
2. Prepare to assume the duties of the Vice President for Finance.
3. Assist with the monitoring of all financial transactions within the association.
4. Help to oversee the work of the committees, especially the College Fairs committee.

Vice President for Inclusion, Access, Success

Contact: vp.ias@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves leadership, communication skills, flexibility, and creativity. This Vice President serves as a liaison between the committee chairs and the Executive Board, advocating and soliciting the Board’s assistance when necessary. Service as the Vice President for Inclusion, Access & Success provides significant opportunities for growth and exposure, both within, and outside the Association. This position enables the individual to work with many populations, including our members, committee chairs, the Executive Board, and leaders from State and Regional Associations across the country. The term of office is three years. A summary of the duties is as follows:

1. Coordinate the work of the Government Relations Committee, Camp College Committee, and the Community Based Organization (CBO) and Opportunity Program Committee.
2. Serve as a voice for the priorities of inclusion, access, success, and legislative initiatives which represent the needs of the membership and the students they serve.
3. Coordinate the preparation of budget proposals and other funding requests for the individual committees and present them to the Executive Board.
4. Serve as an ex-officio member of aforementioned committees.
5. Submit reports to the Secretary prior to board meetings as determined by the yearly board calendar.
6. Maintain an updated policies & procedures manual that details important responsibilities required each month for the full fiscal year.
7. Ensure appropriate coverage during vacation time in order for the Association to continue its work without interruption.

Vice President for Professional Development

Contact: vp.professional@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves leadership, communication skills, flexibility, and creativity. This Vice President also serves as a liaison between the committee chairs and the Executive Board, advocating and soliciting the Board's assistance when necessary. The term of office is three years. A summary of the duties is as follows:

1. Coordinate the work of the Professional Development Committee; School, College and CBO Relations Committee, the Summer Institute Committee, and Winter Institute Committee, as well as any related ad hoc and interim committees assigned by the President except those associated with the Annual Membership Meeting.
2. Coordinate the preparation of budget proposals and other funding requests for individual committees and present the same to the Executive Board.
3. Serve as an ex-officio member of the aforementioned committees.
4. Assess the site of any program where a host site is involved. This includes, but is not limited to Summer Institute, Winter Institute, Professional Development Forums and Student Leaders in Admission.
5. Assess efficacy of in-person and virtual programs through participant surveys.
6. Submit reports to the Secretary prior to board meetings as determined by the yearly board calendar.
7. Maintain an updated policies & procedures manual that details important responsibilities required each month for the full fiscal year.
8. Ensure appropriate coverage during vacation time for the Association to continue its work without interruption.

Secretary

Contact: secretary@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves duties primarily at the state level and is one of consistent service to its members. Due to the importance of archiving all documents of the Association, the Secretary must pay close attention to detail, be thorough and consistent, and attend all scheduled meetings. The term of office for Secretary is two years. A summary of the duties of Secretary is as follows:

1. Maintain the recorded history of the Association including all pertinent printed materials.
2. Record, maintain and distribute the minutes of the general membership meetings to the full membership.
3. Record, maintain and distribute the minutes of the Executive Board meetings to the Executive Board.
4. Perform such other duties as directed by the president.
5. In emergency situations, the Secretary is part of the decision-making team along with the President, Immediate Past President, and President-Elect.
6. At every Executive Board meeting, provide an update on SIG activities, plans and, keep a calendar of SIG events.

College and Secondary Regional Representatives

As elected officers of the NYSACAC Executive Board, Regional Representatives help perform the business of the Association, and they provide resources for the larger regional constituency of members. Regional Representatives are voting members of the Executive Board.

Upon written 90-day advanced request and only when possible, NYSACAC may reimburse travel for Regional Representatives to attend NYSACAC business meetings that require their attendance.

The term of office is three years, and Regional Representatives must be active voting members of NYSACAC. The commitment as described is as follows:

1. Attendance at NYSACAC Executive Board Meetings
2. Attendance and participation in the NYSACAC Annual Conference
3. Attendance at some of the Regional Forums, with the primary focus on their region
4. With the exception of those who work remotely, or are regionally based, members must represent the region their institution resides in. Remote employees may represent and vote in the region they reside. Members are eligible to vote in the same region they are eligible to represent.

5. Acting as a resource for NYSACAC committees
6. The term of service is 3 years, except in the inaugural election year when some terms will be two years to avoid all Representatives rolling off at the same time. In the inaugural year, half the secondary and half the college representatives will serve a term of two years with the allocation of said representatives being evenly distributed across regions with vacancies. In any region, only two Representatives may hold the position at any time. If due to the transition from Delegates to Representatives a region has no vacancy, the elected members will serve their term and Representatives will be elected to that region in the next cycle and the terms will be staggered as detailed previously.
7. Serve as the liaison to the region they were elected to represent and the Executive Board.
8. Prior to each Executive Board Meeting, and in coordination with the other Regional Representative from their assigned region, submit a report to the Chief Representative and Secretary.
9. Meet as needed with the Chief Representative
10. Participate in all required voting and discussion sessions of NYSACAC.
11. Host two town hall meetings, in-person or virtually, with constituents from your region and send a written report to the Chief Representative within one week after the meetings. Regional Representatives will host 2 town hall meetings per year, for a total of 6 town hall meetings during their term of service.
12. Establish connections with local counseling associations, CBOs, independent counselors, and graduate programs for school counseling and higher education. The goal is to find areas NYSACAC can collaborate and support these populations and potentially grow our membership as a result.
13. Submit one newsletter article each year during your term of service.
14. Regional Representatives are elected by NYSACAC members in the respective region.
15. No more than one Representative can be elected from the same institution at any time.
16. In the case of a vacant position, the Immediate Past President, in consultation with the President and President-Elect, will appoint a member from that region to fulfill the term of service.

Nominating Committee, Elections and Awards

Contact: nominating@nysacac.org

Charge

The Nominating Committee reviews the nominees for open elected positions each year and presents the yearly slate for annual elections. The committee also reviews and selects eligible nominees for annual awards for which they are nominated.

Procedures

- Nominating Committee members must be members of NYSACAC in good standing and currently employed full-time in the college admission counseling profession.
- Committee members serve for a maximum term of three years, including the Immediate Past President, who serves the first year as Nominating Committee Chair and the second two years as a committee member.
- Vacancies are filled through appointment by the Immediate Past President.
- The committee position held by a Past President who has fulfilled their term on the committee is replaced by the incoming Immediate Past President.
- In the event of committee member resignation or disqualification, the Immediate Past President appoints an eligible member of NYSACAC as an interim replacement for the preexisting term.

- Nominating Committee members may not serve consecutive terms and are required to have prior experience on the NYSACAC executive board.
- The President-Elect, President and Executive Director will serve as ex-officio members.

Elections and Awards

- The Immediate Past President coordinates communication to current members soliciting nominations for elected positions and awards, typically in the fall or winter of each year.
- The Nominating Committee reviews and approves a slate of nominees to the Executive Board for approval. The approved slate is placed on the ballot and voted on by the general membership, typically in the late winter of each year.
- The Nominating Committee reviews nominees for annual awards and selects award recipients from the nominations, preferably in the award category they were nominated for.
- The elections are completed prior to the annual conference, where results are shared, and awards are presented.
- All officers assume their new position and duties following the annual conference, including the Presidents.
