Mission Statement & Strategic Plan 2024-2027

NYSACAC Vision Statement

NYSACAC is at the forefront of providing professional development and leadership opportunities in college admission counseling.

NYSACAC Mission Statement

The NYSACAC mission statement outlines our commitment to the professionals and students of New York State. NYSACAC is committed to:

- Develop and strengthen the professional practices and networks of those who provide the information and counseling.
- Promote access, equity, and success in post-secondary education.
- Support the professionals who service the students and families in the transition to post-secondary education.
- Promote high professional standards that foster ethical and social responsibilities.

Strategic Goals 2024-2027

1. Membership and Leadership: NYSACAC will demonstrate the value and benefit of NYSACAC, build pathways for leadership opportunities, and increase membership across New York State.
  - Objective 1: Strive to recruit and build a diverse executive board and membership that represents the demographics and diversity of New York State.
  - Objective 2: Promote professional development that enhances belonging, diversity and equity for its leaders and members.
  - Objective 3: Increase membership and engagement by recruiting and mentoring professionals from underrepresented areas of our membership.
  - Objective 4: Identify leadership development opportunities within the association that reflects the diversity of our membership.
2. Advocacy: NYSACAC will advocate at the local, state, and federal level for counseling and access to higher education on behalf of all students, including those who are underserved, underrepresented or have unique needs.
  - Objective 1: Provide relevant information and updates concerning local, state, and federal policy in the best interest of our professional responsibilities and the students we serve.
  - Objective 2: Advance the membership opportunities for advocacy regarding policy areas of interest within post secondary education.
  - Objective 3: Expand the delivery of advocacy services and opportunities to members of all geographic regions of the state.
  - Objective 4: Continue legislative advocacy, especially with external elected officials involved in higher education communities.
3. Access and Success: NYSACAC will continue to be a leader in promoting and ensuring access and success for all students seeking post-secondary opportunities.

- Objective 1: Provide educational programming to prepare our members to serve students from underrepresented populations in higher education.
  - Objective 2: Periodically survey our membership to identify interest and opportunities for programming and professional development.
  - Objective 3: Educate members on best practices for ethical college admissions.
  - Objective 4: Identify and incorporate all methods of technology to provide additional access points to our membership for professional development.
4. Exposure: NYSACAC will continue to define and promote its brand, developing effective marketing and communication strategies to support our vision and mission.
- Objective 1: Promote our organizational offerings to internal and external audiences through website, newsletter, email outreach and social media.
  - Objective 2: Develop relationships with regional and statewide organizations and companies that align and/or complement our affiliate to enhance opportunities for members.
  - Objective 3: Increase constituent's understanding of the benefit of membership to NYSACAC.
  - Objective 4: Seek opportunities and develop outlets to share knowledge with colleagues, and government officials.
5. Organizational Effectiveness: NYSACAC will maintain fiduciary responsibility while identifying strategic ways to advance our vision and mission.
- Objective 1: Strive to present and approve an annual balanced budget.
  - Objective 2: Continuously seek out new revenue streams, including grant opportunities, that appropriately align with our mission and vision.
  - Objective 3: Promote data transparency and utilize organizational data to make informed decisions and to pursue grant opportunities.
  - Objective 4: Maintain best practices and build on the goals of transparency, oversight, shared responsibility, and role specification in the budget process.

NYSACAC Executive Board

The Executive Board meets at least four times a year. All voting members are expected to attend and provide information regarding their area of representation. The Board typically meets either virtually or in-person throughout NYS during the academic year. In addition, a Leadership Retreat is conducted each summer to orient new leaders and to set organizational goals for the year. A second retreat is held in December to evaluate the progress of the Board and committees, and to review plans for upcoming events and initiatives. Committee chairs are encouraged to attend the two retreats.

Expenses are usually assumed by the officer's employer, including transportation and lodging. Meals at the retreats will typically be provided by NYSACAC.

Executive Director

Contact: nysacac@nysacac.org

The Executive Director of NYSACAC plays a vital role in ensuring the continuity and stability of the organization, serving as the sole paid staff member amid a rotating volunteer leadership team. This individual supports the Presidential Trio and Executive Board by providing institutional knowledge, guidance, and logistical coordination.

A summary of Executive Director duties is as follows:

- Have a thorough understanding of the association, its Bylaws, policies and procedures, past practices, and program and events.
- Act as a central point of contact to respond on behalf of the association and/or distribute incoming communication to the appropriate board member or committee.
- Attend all meetings of the following groups: Executive Board, Leadership Team, Conference Steering Committee, Finance Committee and other committees as requested.
- Serve as the liaison with the association's attorney and investment company when necessary, ensuring legal and financial matters are handled appropriately and consistently.
- Attend and provide support annually during Summer and Winter Retreats, the Annual Conference, and the NACAC Annual conference at least every two years.

President

Contact: president@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves leadership at both the state and national levels. The President assumes leadership for the state association and serves as the primary liaison to National Association for College Admission Counseling (NACAC). In addition to the responsibilities listed below, the President is a member of the Affiliate Presidents Council (APC), a body composed of Presidents, Immediate Past Presidents, and Presidents-Elect for the state and regional associations. The Affiliate Presidents Council typically meets in person twice annually for leadership development and related activities, at a two-day summer retreat (LEAD) and at the NACAC Annual Conference. There are virtual meetings and training that take place throughout the year. The term of office for the President is one year. A summary of the duties of President is as follows:

- Call and preside over all meetings of the General Membership and the Executive Board.
- Prepare and distribute a written agenda for all meetings.
- Upon assuming the office of President, in consultation with Vice Presidents as applicable, appoint standing committee Co-chairs of the Association as needed for term succession and/or to fill interim terms for vacated positions.
- Serve as an ex-officio member of all committees, including Nominating Committee. The President will assume the role of Nominating Committee Chair as Immediate Past President and will need a thorough understanding of that responsibility.

- Review and execute all contracts in consultation with the Immediate Past President, President-Elect, and attorney.
- Assume other responsibilities as directed by the Executive Board.
- Attend the NACAC Conference and other required meetings.
- Plan and lead the annual Executive Board Leadership retreats held each summer and winter to orient new leaders and to set goals for the year.
- Plan and lead the leadership team meetings which are held periodically throughout the year.
- Compile and distribute an annual report to the membership. The report should be made at the General Membership Meeting of the Annual Conference in June. Minutes of the meeting shall be made available to the membership.
- Every three years, in time for the summer Leadership Retreat, review and update the Strategic Plan, vision and mission statements, and governance structure with Immediate Past President and President-Elect. Present the Strategic Plan and Mission Statement to the Executive Board for approval at Retreat.
- Regularly monitor NYSACAC email account and respond to all incoming requests, questions, concerns or issues in a timely manner.
- Assume the role of Immediate Past President and Chief Representative at the conclusion of the term of President.

Service as President of NYSACAC is an honor and a great responsibility. The rewards of service to the Association are tremendous as the President meets members from across the State and represents NYSACAC at the national level. The President provides the vision and leadership necessary to meet the professional needs of members throughout the state and carry the membership forward.

President-Elect

Contact: president.elect@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves leadership at both the state and national levels. The President-Elect is responsible for the planning of the Annual Conference, and for providing regular updates to the membership and Executive Board. The President-Elect is a member of the Affiliate Presidents Council (APC), a body composed of Presidents, Immediate Past Presidents, and Presidents-Elect for the state and regional associations. The Affiliate Presidents Council typically in person meets twice annually for leadership development and related activities. There are virtual meetings and trainings that take place throughout the year. The term of office for President-Elect is one year. A summary of the duties of President-Elect is as follows:

- Serve as chair of the Steering Committee for the Annual Conference. Responsible for regular meetings of the Steering Committee to oversee the necessary preparations for the conference. Meet regularly with the on-site coordinator. Responsible for: selecting a keynote speaker, organizing the conference's closing event/s, approving social events, workshops, and all conference related activities.

- Oversee the Coming Together Committee as part of the Annual Conference planning process and update the Executive Board in coordination with the Coming Together Committee Co-Chairs.
- Report on conference updates to the NYSACAC Executive Board.
- Report to NYSACAC members at the two annual general membership meetings.
- Update NYSACAC members about conference activities via the NYSACAC Newsletter.
- Assume the Office of the President in their absence or resignation at all official functions of the Association.
- Assume the office of President at the conclusion of the term of President-Elect.
- Attend the NACAC Conference and other required meetings.
- Assume other responsibilities as directed by the President.
- Every three years as scheduled, review and update the Strategic Plan, vision and mission statements, and governance structure with Immediate Past President and President.
- Serve as ex-officio member of Nominating Committee.
- Regularly monitor NYSACAC email account and respond to all incoming requests, questions, concerns or issues in a timely manner.

Serving the Association in the role of President-Elect is challenging and rewarding. It is a time for honing leadership skills in preparation for assuming the position of President. The President-Elect acts as a liaison to the membership regarding critical issues and in planning the Annual Conference. This task commands leadership and the ability to work closely with the Steering Committee and the membership in a true team spirit.

Immediate Past President & Chief Representative

Contact: past.president@nysacac.org

This role in the governance structure involves leadership at both the state and national levels, as the Immediate Past President is an active member of the Executive Board. The expertise of this individual is utilized in an advisory capacity by the Board and in particular by the President. The Immediate Past President is also the Chief Representative. The Immediate Past President is a member of the Affiliate Presidents Council (APC), a body composed of Presidents, Immediate Past Presidents and Presidents-Elect for the state and regional associations. The APC meets in person twice annually for leadership development and related activities. There are a number of virtual meetings and trainings that take place throughout the year. The term of office for the Immediate Past President is one year. A summary of the duties of the Immediate Past President is as follows:

- Chair the Nominating Committee and fill any current vacancies through the appointment of active voting members of NYSACAC.
- Certify that all Regional Representatives are members in good standing of NYSACAC.
- Serve as a resource and advisor to the President.
- Coordinate the annual review of Bylaws with the President, President-Elect, Vice Presidents, Secretary and Executive Director for approval by the Executive Board prior to the June General Membership Meeting.

- Present the revised Bylaws to the membership for approval at the June General Membership Meeting at the Annual Conference. Final Bylaws should be updated for the website prior to the Immediate Past President rolling off the board.
- Coordinate the annual review of the Policies and Procedures Manual with the President, President-Elect, Vice Presidents, Secretary and Executive Director for approval by the Executive Board prior to the annual conference.
- Final Policies and Procedures Manual should be updated for the website prior to the Immediate Past President rolling off the board.
- Serve as Chief Representative for NYSACAC for a period of one year.
- Every three years as scheduled, review and update the Strategic Plan, vision and mission statements, and governance structure with the President, President-Elect, Vice Presidents, Secretary, and Executive Director.
- Regularly monitor NYSACAC email account and respond to all incoming requests, questions, concerns or issues in a timely manner.

Serving the Association as Immediate Past President is a critical role. This person has developed, completed, or perhaps just initiated new endeavors for the organization, and through the previous roles as President-Elect and President, can serve as a key mentor to the entire organization. This knowledge and experience can help direct the organization as the current President brings energy and direction to its members.

Chief Representative

This role in the governance structure involves leadership and advocacy. The Chief Representative is responsible for leading the Regional Representatives (12) in their responsibilities as liaisons between the members in their respective region and the Executive Board.

A summary of the duties is as follows:

- Attend Executive Board Meetings.
- Attend the Annual Conference.
- Attend some of the regional forums, particularly those in the geographic area of the Chief Representative.
- Submit a report prior to each Executive Board meeting detailing the activities of the Regional Representatives.
- Participate in all required APC meetings as determined by NACAC.

College and Secondary Regional Representatives

Contact: Region1rep@nysacac.org; Region2rep@nysacac.org; Region3rep@nysacac.org; Region4rep@nysacac.org; Region5rep@nysacac.org; Region6rep@nysacac.org

As elected officers of the NYSACAC Executive Board, Regional Representatives help perform the business of the Association, and they provide resources for the larger regional constituency of members. Regional Representatives are voting members of the Executive Board.

Upon written 90-day advanced request and only when possible, NYSACAC may reimburse travel for Regional Representatives to attend NYSACAC Executive Board meetings that require their attendance.

The term of office is three years, and Regional Representatives must be active voting members of NYSACAC. There will be two Representatives elected in each region, one college admission professional and one secondary counselor from a high school or CBO, who are elected by members in the respective region. No more than one Representative can be elected from the same institution at any time.

A Representative may resign at any time by written notice delivered to the Immediate Past President or Secretary. A resignation is effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a date later than the date of delivery. The resignation of the Representative need not be accepted in order to be effective.

Vacancies in Representative positions shall be filled by appointment by the Immediate Past President and approval of the Board. Such appointed term shall last until the next General Membership Meeting at which time voting members shall approve the member to complete the vacant term.

A summary of the duties of Regional Representative is as follows:

- Attend NYSACAC Executive Board Meetings.
- Attend and participate in the Annual Conference.
- Attend Regional Forums, college fairs, Student Leaders in Admissions Forum, and other events with the primary focus on their region. The Regional Representative can provide the NYSACAC Welcome and important updates at such events and provide updates from the region.
- Represent the region their institution resides, with the exception of those who work remotely or are regionally based. Remote or regionally based employees may represent and vote in the region they reside. Members are eligible to vote in the same region they are eligible to represent.
- Act as a resource for NYSACAC committees.
- Serve as the liaison and represent the region to the Executive Board.
- Submit a report to the Chief Representative and Secretary prior to each Executive Board Meeting, in coordination with the other Regional Representative from their assigned region
- Meet as needed with the Chief Representative.
- Participate in all required voting and discussion sessions of NYSACAC.
- Host two town hall meetings each year, in-person or virtually, with constituents in the region and report out at the next Regional Representative meeting or send a written summary to the Chief Representative.
- Establish connections with local counseling associations, CBOs, independent counselors, and graduate programs for school counseling and higher education to collaborate and support these populations and potentially increase our membership as a result.
- Submit one newsletter article each year.
- Regularly monitor NYSACAC email account and respond to all incoming requests, questions, concerns or issues in a timely manner.

Committees

The committees of NYSACAC serve as the backbone of the organization, carrying out much of the planning, coordination, and execution of its events and initiatives. With 18 committees (as of June 2025), each led by two co-chairs, they are tasked with meeting regularly, collaborating closely with the Executive Board, and fulfilling the specific responsibilities of their committee, as indicated in this Policies and Procedures manual. Their work ensures the Association's programs run smoothly and effectively, supporting NYSACAC's mission and serving its members across the state.

Co-Chairs are appointed by the President to serve three-year terms. If a Co-Chair resigns, the President will appoint a replacement to serve the remainder of that term. To maintain consistency and continuity in committee leadership, Co-Chair terms should be staggered to ensure that both Co-Chairs do not leave their positions at the same time.
