Background on the Map-2-Transfer Manual

The majority of students who begin study at a community college indicate that they intend to continue on to a bachelor's or higher degree.<sup>1</sup> The National Student Research Center's recent report, Transfer and Mobility: A National Student Movement in Postsecondary Institutions (2012), highlighted the extent of the movement of students from one institution to another over the course of their academic career. They found that a third of all students transfer before earning a degree (p. 5).<sup>2</sup> The number of students who transfer in the fall, at the start of the academic year, has been estimated at more than one million with another smaller wave of students transferring at the start of the spring semester.<sup>3</sup> Yet, a recent study, The Community College Route to the Bachelor's Degree, identified three barriers to community college students' quest for a bachelor's degree:

- Failure to transfer to a four-year college after earning 60 credits or an associate degree
- Loss of credits when transferring to a four-year college
- Demands of work and/or family interrupt college enrollment.<sup>4</sup>

This "Map-2-Transfer" project was conceived to provide counselors and students with information to help them navigate the transfer process to an independent college or university and minimize barriers to successful transfer. The project was funded with a federal College Access Challenge Grant (CACG) awarded to the Commission on Independent Colleges and Universities (clcu) by the New York State Higher Education Services Corporation (HESC), the state agency designated to administer the State's CACG program since 2008. The goals and objectives of CACG include providing students and their families with information about college access to increase their participation in postsecondary education.

The Map-2-Transfer Manual was also made possible with support from clcu member colleges and universities, which provided the data for this resource. The Tips-2-Transfer section was written in collaboration with transfer experts from the New York State Transfer and Articulation Association (NYSTAA), a consortium of advisors and other professionals from public, independent and proprietary colleges and universities involved and interested in improving the college transfer process (www.nystaa.org). The clcu Outreach staff wishes to extend a special thank you to the members of the NYSTAA Ad Hoc Committee who contributed their time and expertise to assist in the development of this project's Tips-2-Transfer brochure series:

Map-2-Transfer Manual Overview

The National Student Clearinghouse reported that of the 2.8 million students beginning study in fall 2006, approximately one-third transferred at least once before earning a degree (2012).<sup>5</sup> In 2013, 6% of the undergraduate students enrolled at New York State's independent colleges and universities were transfer students, a number that has remained relatively constant since 2009.<sup>6</sup>

Certainly students' paths to transfer vary widely. A student who attends a community college may transfer after finishing an associate degree. Or, a student may start college, but stop for personal reasons and then return to complete the degree at a different college after several years. Other students may decide to complete their degree at a college or university other than the one where they began their studies. The purpose of this Manual, "Map-2-Transfer," is to provide students from these different backgrounds guidance in navigating the transfer process to help them continue with their postsecondary education plans.

The information in this Map-2-Transfer Manual is also available online at www.nycolleges.org. ## Questions to Ask When Researching Prospective Colleges or Universities

Check with your Transfer Counselor at the college or university to which you are applying to be sure you meet all admission requirements and deadlines. Questions to ask the counselor:

1. What is the minimum cumulative college GPA required for acceptance? This varies widely!
2. How many semesters/quarter hours and credits will be required to complete a degree in my major field of study?
3. What core/general education classes are required? Note that universities/colleges have different requirements for the courses they accept as transfer credits. Often it is more difficult to transfer credits earned in your third and fourth year of college.
4. Is there a maximum number of credits that can be transferred?
5. What courses and credits will be accepted for transfer credit and what are their course equivalencies?
6. How will the transferred courses and requirements help me to earn the degree I am seeking?
7. What scholarship opportunities are available for transfer students? Be sure to ask this early to ensure that you meet all application deadlines. Funds may be limited for transfer students.
8. What type of living space is available? Every college has unique policies related to housing – be sure to ask what options are available to you as a transfer student.
9. When is the best time to meet with an advisor and register for classes?
10. Are there transfer orientation sessions or transfer student seminars offered to help me connect with other transfer students?

Tips-2-Transfer for Adult/Returning-to-College Transfers

It's never too late to get back to college to finish your studies! There are many options for adult or returning students for either full-time or part-time study. Read on to learn some of the important steps to take to transition to a new university/college and request transfer of previously-earned credits.

Q&A: Transfer Answers for Adult or Returning-to-College Transfers

1. Why do colleges differentiate between traditional and adult or returning-to-college transfer students?

- Many universities and colleges have unique programs specifically for adults or those students returning to college after a hiatus. For example, the college may have an Adult Division that only admits students older than age 21. Frequently, classes are offered at times that are more convenient for students who have other day-time or work-week obligations (for example, in the evening or on weekends). An additional distinction is that adult students are often defined as independent students for financial aid eligibility.

2. Am I able to take one class or do I have to go full time (12-15 credits)?

- When you register for classes, you have the option to fully matriculate, which means you are seeking a degree such as a bachelor's, or you may register as a non-matriculated student, meaning you are taking courses without the goal of obtaining a degree. As a matriculated, full-time student you may have access to financial aid, scholarships and grants. A matriculated part-time student has fewer financial aid options, but may still be eligible for certain programs. Be sure to check with the college's financial aid office.

3. I know that I want to enroll at a certain college; where do I begin?

- Research the program at the college/university you are most interested in attending. Schedule a campus visit to go on a tour and meet with an admissions representative. If you can't visit, or are more comfortable speaking with a counselor over the phone or via email, be sure that you have done your research in advance and prepare your questions carefully.

It is very important to know how your current college/university credits will transfer into the specific degree that you're interested in at the transfer college.

4. How can I afford a college or university?

- Find out the institution's costs and what the average financial aid package is for adult/returning-to-college students. Also ask what percentage of students receives financial aid, what scholarships or grants are offered at the college, and the qualifications needed to be awarded aid. Always be realistic about your finances.
- Do not wait to be accepted before filing for financial aid! Check with the college to determine which forms you need to file and when you need to file them to be considered for all types of aid. Be sure to complete and submit all applications for aid and scholarships by the specified deadlines.
- Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at fafsa.ed.gov
- If you are a New York State resident applying to a college in New York State, apply for TAP through the FAFSA or online at: www.tap.hesc.ny.gov

5. What are my housing options?

- Contact the campus Residential Life Office to inquire about housing for adult students. If you have a family and will require campus housing, be sure to ask if family housing is available. Most colleges will be able to provide information about off-campus apartments or, at a minimum, recommend a local realtor.

6. I need childcare; where can I get help?

- Some institutions offer on-site childcare. There are often certain requirements you must meet to be eligible for this service.

7. How will I know what courses will transfer?

- Take a look at Course Equivalencies often found on a college or university's website.
- The university or college you are transferring to will make the final decision about how and if your college credits or credit for life experience will transfer. Talk with a Transfer Counselor at the institution you will be attending to discuss your Transfer Credit Evaluation.

8. How do I begin the application process?

- Check the college's website for application procedures.
- Some academic programs (e.g., nursing, teacher education, social work) often require a separate application in addition to the general application.
- Most universities/colleges prefer that you apply online. College applications are often found on the college's Admissions page in a link such as 'Apply Now.'
- Watch the deadlines!

9. Which transcripts do I need to send?

- There are three types of transcripts – high school, college, and for U.S. Armed Forces Veterans, military transcripts.
- Request your official transcripts from ALL the colleges you have attended and from your high school, if required by the college.
- For veterans, contact your military branch to obtain your military transcript.

Tips-2-Transfer for Veterans and Active Duty Service Members

If you are a veteran or currently in the military, there are many opportunities to help you continue your college education. In addition, military veterans may be eligible for academic credit for certain educational experiences or military course credit. Many campuses have dedicated counselors and advisors to help military and veteran students transfer and make the transition to college. Read on to learn the important steps to transfer.

Q&A: Transfer Answers for Veterans and Active Duty Service Members

1. How do I identify my career interests?

- Ask yourself: Where do I want to end up, and how do I get there? Think about your interests and your skills, including those learned in the military, and how they can lead to different career paths.

2. How do I research transfer colleges?

- Think about what is important to you: majors offered, geographic location, size, cost, selectivity, athletics, housing, religious affiliation and setting (urban, suburban, or rural). Search for colleges that meet your preferences.
- When researching, take notes on important information such as GPA requirements, application deadlines, transfer contact person, guaranteed housing, and scholarship information.
- It is very important to understand how your college and military credits will transfer into the specific degree that you are interested in at the transfer college.
- Ask if any of your military training will be used as college credits, and if so, how. The majority of institutions use the American Council on Education (ACE) recommendations on applying specific military courses and training as credit toward a college degree, but how and when they are applied may be determined by the academic program you are pursuing.
- Ask if the college offers support for military students – and what kind of support.

3. What steps can I take to help me make my final college choices?

- Talk with your academic advisor or contact a Transfer Counselor at your college if you're currently attending a community college or other 2-year institution.
- Visit "Find Your College" at GoCollegeNY.org to help determine which college is for you.
- Visit campuses if possible. You want to get a feel for the personality of the college to determine if it is a good fit for you.
- Always contact an admissions representative at the university or college you are interested in attending. Inquire about potential scholarships, housing, financial aid, and other important concerns.

The university/college you are transferring to will make the final decision about how and if your previous college credits or credit for life experience will transfer.

4. What courses should I be taking now and how will I know what credits will transfer?

- Discuss your transfer plans with a Transfer Counselor or Education Services Officer at your current college – they can help guide you.
- Concentrate on the prerequisites you'll need to be admitted into your chosen academic major. If you are just starting out and unsure of your final major, focus on taking general education/core requirements (for example, history, humanities, foreign language, etc.), not the major courses themselves. Note that many institutions have very specific criteria for the transfer of major courses.
- Review Course Equivalencies often found on the 4-year colleges and universities' websites.
- Remember that the college or university you are considering transferring to is your best resource to ensure your transfer planning is on the right track. They will make the final decision about how and if your credits will transfer.

5. How do I begin the application process?

- Check the college's website for applications.
- Some academic programs (e.g., nursing, teacher education, social work) require a separate application in addition to the general application.
- Most institutions prefer that you apply online. Applications are often found on the institution's Admissions page in a link such as 'Apply Now.'
- Always pay attention to the deadlines!

6. Which transcripts do I need to send?

- Request your official transcripts from ALL colleges attended and from your high school, if required by the college.
- Active and Veteran members of the U.S. Armed Forces should also submit their personal military transcripts for possible credit. Links to obtain transcripts for each branch of service can be found on the American Council on Education website (www.acenet.edu).
- Keep track of who you submitted the request to and when requests were made.

Tips-2-Transfer for Veterans and Active Duty Service Members

7. How do I apply for financial aid?

- Contact each college's financial aid office to ensure you completed all forms required to be considered for all types of financial aid.
- Do not wait to be accepted before applying for financial aid!
- To learn more about aid for college, visit <http://studentaid.ed.gov/sa/types/grants-scholarships/military>
- For New York State residents attending an approved college in the state, learn more about Veteran Tuition Awards at www.hesc.ny.gov/pay-for-college/military-corner.html.
- Apply for your VA benefits at www.ebenefits.va.gov.
- Fill out the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) at fafsa.ed.gov.
- Include all universities and colleges you are considering on your FAFSA. Additional colleges can be added to your FAFSA at a later date.
- Watch the deadlines!
- As a Veteran or Active Duty Service Member, you may be entitled to benefits from the Post-9/11 GI Bill or the pre-existing Montgomery GI Bill-Active Duty (MGIB). Many colleges also participate in the Yellow Ribbon Program providing an additional grant to service members and eligible beneficiaries. Note that not every veteran is eligible to receive these benefits, and not all colleges are Yellow Ribbon participants, so be sure to ask. Also discuss with your military advisors which benefits package is best for you. Visit www.veterans.ny.gov for more information. These programs have limits in both funds and duration, so applying for additional aid (e.g., scholarships, grants) may be important, as will the number of transfer credits you receive toward the intended degree since this will help determine how long it will take to earn your degree.

8. How do I check the status of my application?

- Keep in contact with the Admissions staff at the universities and colleges you are applying to throughout the process. Be sure your contact information (telephone number, email address, and mailing address) is current.
- Check on the status of your military transcripts – see next column for contact information.

Glossary of Transfer Terms

A

Academic Record: Transcript of grades, courses, credits, and related academic information kept on file by the school. The transcript often includes grade point average (GPA) and/or rank in class. Standardized test scores may or may not be recorded on the transcript.

Accreditation: Approval of colleges and universities by nationally recognized professional associations or regional accrediting bodies.

Add/Drop: A process at the beginning of a term whereby students can drop and add classes with an instructor's permission. When you add or drop a course, it may affect your tuition charges, your academic record, and sometimes your financial aid. Always check with your academic advisor before adding or dropping courses.

Adult Learner: An adult learner is an individual who does not begin college immediately following high school.

Articulation/Transfer Agreements: A formal agreement between institutions (usually between community colleges/ 2-year colleges and 4-year institutions) that maps a program of study from a 2-year to a 4-year-degree.

Associate Degree: A degree awarded after approximately a two-year period of study. An associate degree may transfer to the first two years of a bachelor's degree.

Attestation: An official affirmation that a degree or transcript is genuine. It is usually signed by a recognized expert or witness.

B

Bachelor's degree: A degree awarded upon completion of approximately four years (or five years in certain programs) of full-time study.

Billable Costs: The costs are paid directly to the college or university, including tuition, student activity fees, laboratory fees, and other charges. For students who live on campus, the cost of room and board is also a billable cost.

C

College/University Catalog: An official publication giving information about a university's academic programs, facilities, entrance requirements, and student life. Many are entirely online.

Common and Universal Applications: Although colleges have their own admission application forms, many independent colleges also accept The Common Application while others use the Universal Application. The colleges and universities that accept these standardized forms give them equal weight with their own application forms. If accepted by the college, check to see if any supplemental sections are required as well.

Community/Junior College: A postsecondary institution that offers associate degree programs, as well as technical and vocational programs. Some also offer bachelor's degrees.

Core Course: Courses that provide the foundation of an academic degree program and are required of all students seeking that degree.

Cost of Attendance: Expenses, including tuition and fees, books and supplies, and living expenses while a student attends college. The cost of attendance (COA) is compared with the student's expected family contribution to determine a student's financial need.

Credit: A unit that most colleges and universities use to record the completion of courses (with passing grades) that are required for an academic degree.

Credit Evaluation: An assessment of a student's transfer credit, generally performed at the time of admission. A student's college credits are evaluated to determine if the transfer college has equivalent courses and can then offer transfer credit for those courses.

D

Degree: Diploma or title conferred by a college, university, or professional school once a student completes a prescribed program of studies.

Degree Audit: A report that aligns prior course work and learning with the current institution's program of study requirements. This checklist will also show what courses remain and which courses were not transferred because they were not comparable or equivalent to the ones required by the institution a student transferred to. Many colleges require a student to undergo a degree audit after each semester.

Department: Administrative subdivision of a school, college, or university through which instruction in a certain field of study is given (such as English department or history department).

E

Electives: Courses that may be chosen from any field of study. Electives give students an opportunity to explore other topics or subjects of interest.

Expected Family Contribution (EFC): The amount students and their families are expected to pay toward college costs derived from a financial needs analysis, usually based on income and assets.

F

FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid): A form that must be completed in order to be considered for federal financial aid and for certain forms of state financial aid.

Fees: An amount charged by universities, in addition to tuition, to cover costs for institutional services.

Financial Aid: Any grant, scholarship, loan or paid employment offered to help a student meet his or her college expenses. The amount a student receives is determined by federal, state and institutional guidelines.

Full-time Student: One who is enrolled in an institution taking a full load of courses; the institution specifies the number of courses and hours. Enrollment status is important for financial aid eligibility and award levels.

G

Grade/Grading System: The evaluation of a student's academic work.

Grant: A type of financial aid that doesn't have to be repaid. Grants are often based on financial need (e.g., Federal Pell Grant, New York State Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) Grant).

I

Indirect Costs: College costs that do not show up on the college bill and include books and supplies, travel, and personal expenses (laundry, entertainment, clothing, etc.) The amount spent on these items will vary according to need and preference.

International English Language Testing System (IELTS): An English language proficiency examination required by some institutions for applicants whose native language is not English.

L

Major Professor/Thesis Adviser: For research degrees, the professor who works closely with a student in planning and choosing a research plan, in conducting the research, and in presenting the results. The major professor serves as the head of a committee of faculty members who review the student's progress and results.

Matriculation: The process whereby a student is accepted into a program of study, pays fees and enrolls in class, officially becoming a student at the college.

MOOC: A massive open online course aimed at unlimited participation and open online access. May include traditional course materials and interactive user forums.

O

Prerequisites: Programs or courses that a student is required to complete before being permitted to enroll in a more advanced program or course.

Prior Learning Assessment (PLA): A process and set of steps institutions perform when students apply or consider enrolling. Seminar: A form of small group instruction combining independent research and class discussions under the guidance of a professor.

Subsidized Loan: A loan based on financial need as determined by federal regulators in which the federal government pays the interest during the time the student is in school, thereby subsidizing the loan.

For Architecture, the year of design is determined upon admission and additional transfer credit is reviewed over the summer prior to enrolling. For Art, students meet with an academic adviser during the summer prior to enrolling but after admission is offered. Much effort takes place looking at a student's work from each class including portfolio work, classes taken, grades earned, etc. Humanities and Social Science credit is evaluated by the Dean of HSS or the adviser in HSS during the summer prior to enrollment.
Treatment of College Credits Earned in HS:	Generally course credit is based on several factors, including placement tests, course descriptions and evidence of submitted work in the previous class. AP test scores of a 4 or 5 may result in placement to another course level, for other courses, such as physics a student will still need to sit for the placement exam.

Students pay an enrollment fee of $1,065 for the Multi-Source Option or they can choose the Excelsior Course Option for which the enrollment fee is $0. Students in the second example commit to taking at least 12 semester hours of Excelsior College course credits before graduation. Total annual cost depends on: how the students elect to complete degree requirements; how many credits they have to complete based on transfer credits, and; number of credits chosen to complete in an academic year (limit 16 semester hours of course credits per trimester). Course tuition is $510 per credit.

TRANSFER OVERVIEW

Do Transfer Policies Differ Between Schools or Divisions?	No. All schools within the college follow the same policies but there may be specific restrictions based on specific program needs.
Other Important Information for Transfers:	Excelsior College is New York's only independent, regionally accredited, non-profit institution providing educational opportunities primarily via online and distance learning, focusing on the needs of working adults who have some college credit but no degree. Virtually all of our more than 30,000 enrolled students are transfer students. Excelsior's acceptance of valid transfer credits toward its degree requirements means our students and their families did not have to pay for them a second time.

APPLYING FOR TRANSFER

Admission Terms for Transfer:	Fall, Spring, Summer
Application Requirements:	Students are required to submit official transcripts (documentation) for our undergraduate admissions counselors to review in order to determine their applicability toward degree requirements. This "preliminary review" is for prospective students to use in making an enrollment decision. Once the student officially enrolls, their advisor will conduct an official evaluation. For more information about our admissions process please visit: www.excelsior.edu/admissions
Minimum GPA Accepted for Transfer:	2.0 (grade of "C")
Do you Recalculate GPA?	We do not use a +/- grading system so a letter grade with a + or - grade is given the straight letter grade (ex. "B+/-" is a "B" at Excelsior).
Transfer Admissions Application Deadline:	Rolling admission
Are Application Fee Waivers Available?	Yes. We have several populations of students for whom the $80 application fee is waived.

TRANSFER CREDIT AND CREDIT EVALUATION

Maximum Credits Transfer In:	Bachelor's degree students can theoretically satisfy all of their degree requirements through transfer credit with the exception of the Capstone.
Maximum Credit from a 2-Year College:	The number of transfer credits from a 2-year institution is dependent on the degree program. For our most flexible degree, 90 semester hours can be transferred.
Maximum Credit from a 4-Year College:	The number of transfer credits from a 4-year institution is again dependent on the degree program. For our most flexible degree, 117 semester hours can be transferred.
Number Credits Transferable Within a Major:	Everything except the Capstone
Core or Gen Ed Waived for an Associate Degree?	Not necessarily waived. We analyze transfer credits on a course-by-course basis and if a transfer course meets a requirement, it will be applied toward that requirement and credit applied per the transcript it comes from.
Is the Credit Evaluation General or Applied to Major?	If a student selects a specific program, the preliminary review is conducted on that basis; otherwise, the student receives a more general assessment of his/her transfer credits.
When Does Credit Evaluation Take Place?	The unofficial preliminary review takes place in our admissions office or at military education centers (for our military students); however, the official evaluation is conducted by our resident professional academic advisors.
Treatment of College Credits Earned in HS:	If they take college courses while in high school then they need to have an official college transcript sent from the college where credit was taken and earned. We will NOT consider them if sent on a high school transcript.

FINANCIAL AID FOR TRANSFERS

Is Financial Aid Available for Transfers?	Yes. Most of our students come with a significant number of transfer credits completed. Students can apply for financial aid to meet their remaining requirements.

APPLYING FOR TRANSFER

Admission Terms for Transfer:	Fall, Spring
Application Requirements:	To be eligible, you must hold a high school diploma or General Education Diploma, have at least a 2.0 GPA on a 4.0 scale (note, however, that a GPA of 2.0 or higher does not automatically guarantee acceptance to the College), and you must be in good academic and social standing at the current or last institution attended. Admission is selective. A transfer student is required to attend Hartwick for at least two academic years and earn 60 credits to be eligible for a degree from Hartwick. Once a transfer student has been accepted, the transcripts will be evaluated by the College's Registrar and the student will receive a Transfer Credit Evaluation. Transfer credit from accredited institutions is given for courses similar to those offered at Hartwick completed with a "C" or higher. Generally, only traditional liberal arts and science types of classes will be deemed acceptable. Hartwick College will generally honor an associate of arts or associate of science degree from accredited colleges by offering the equivalent of two years of credit.
Minimum GPA Accepted for Transfer:	2.0 on a 4.0 point scale
Do you Recalculate GPA?	N/A
Transfer Admissions Application Deadline:	August 1 for Fall; January 1 for Spring
Are Application Fee Waivers Available?	No application fees

Maximum Credit from a 2-Year College:	N/A
Maximum Credit from a 4-Year College:	N/A
Number Credits Transferable Within a Major:	N/A
Core or Gen Ed Waived for an Associate Degree?	No

Is the Credit Evaluation General or Applied to Major?	The credit evaluation shows how courses will transfer in general. With the credit evaluation, we also send students a degree audit, which tracks progress in both general education and major courses.
When Does Credit Evaluation Take Place?	Once a transfer student has been accepted, the transcripts will be evaluated by the Office of the Registrar. You should receive your Transfer Credit Evaluation with your acceptance letter. Generally, only traditional Liberal Arts and Science types of classes will be deemed acceptable. Courses accepted from other institutions should be comparable to those in the current Hartwick College catalogue. Only courses with grades of "C" or better will be transferable. A maximum of 60 semester hours of credit may be transferred. Hartwick College will generally honor an Associate of Arts or Associate of Science degree from accredited colleges by offering the equivalent of two years of credit.
Treatment of College Credits Earned in HS:	Any course that appears on a college transcript is considered as transfer credit. We accept Advanced Placement exam scores.

FINANCIAL AID FOR TRANSFERS

Is Financial Aid Available for Transfers?	Yes. A student applying for financial aid must complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the Hartwick College Application for Financial Aid forms. Transfer students must submit financial aid transcripts from all institutions attended to the Hartwick College financial aid office; a financial aid package will not be prepared without this information.
Transfer Financial Aid Application Deadline:	August 1 for Fall; January 1 for Spring

Transfer Scholarship Application Process:	Hartwick College recognizes and awards those transfer students who are well qualified and highly motivated with a proven track record. The renewable scholarships range from $5,000 – $22,000. Core or Gen Ed Waived for an Associate Degree?	Yes. All integrative studies courses are waived for AA/AS students with the exception of two courses in Faith Foundation.
Is the Credit Evaluation General or Applied to Major?	General, although certain departments will evaluate certain majors at the time of application.
When Does Credit Evaluation Take Place?	An official Credit Evaluation can take place at any point in the admission process. Official Credit Evaluations typically take place after a student has been accepted for admission although there are exceptions to this.

Treatment of College Credits Earned in HS:	A “transfer” in our definition depends on the student’s enrollment status post-high school graduation regardless of credits earned in high school. That is, if a high school graduate enrolls full-time post-high school graduation, they are considered a transfer student. As long as credits were taken prior to high school graduation and the credits appear on an official transcript from a regionally accredited institution, the student is considered a first-year applicant, even if they take a gap year or only enroll part-time post-high school graduation. However, we usually consider the equivalent of one semester’s worth of credit (12 credit hours) earned post-high school graduation to qualify the student as a transfer applicant.

Treatment of College Credits Earned in HS:	If a student takes a course sponsored through an accredited college, we will accept transfer credit toward the degree at NYIT, as long as the course is equivalent to a course required in the student's degree or an elective course is available. Grades lower than "C" (including "C-" or less than 70) are not transferable. Students seeking transferable credits for Studio courses in Art, Design or Architecture are required to submit a portfolio reflective of their Studio coursework completed in a prior college as part of the admissions application. Transfer credits shall be granted for courses taken at another institution only when the coursework involved and the level of the transfer applicant's achievement in it permits the student to complete the remaining coursework successfully.
